The stock market was heavy at the first board, and cash stock and seller threes continued to be pressed for sale. New York Central closed on the call at 97%, Eric Reading 114%, Michigan Southern 73%, Cleveland and Pittsburg 76%, Northwestern (s.3) 30%, Fort Wayne 98%, Prairie du Chien (a.3) 62, Ohio and Mississippi cer-tificates 28%. At the first regular board the market was further hammered, the great majority of the members being on the bear side; but notwithstanding prices were a fraction higher than at the open board. The European advices by the Scotia reporting a decline in Erie to 50 a 34, Illinois Central 82 a 824, five-twenties 60 a 694, and consols 884 a 34, together with the advance in the Bank of England rate of discount to sever year cent on the 7th inst. produced an uncount to seven per cent on the 7th inst., produced an unsettled state of feeling, and checked operations for a rise. Eric closed % lower than at the second board yesterday, Reading 34, Michigan Southern 34, New York Central 134, Cleveland and Patisburg 14, Northwestern 14, preferred 14, Prairie du Chien 134. Government socurities were heavy. Coupon five-twenties declined 34, new issue 14. Seven thirty notes of the second and third series sold at 97%. There was a sale of Western Union Tele-

At the second regular board a general attack was made upon the market, and in the rush to sell prices declined sharply. New York Central closed 134 lower than at the first board, Eric 11/4, Reading 11/4, Michigan Southern 2%, Cleveland and Pittsburg 3%, Northwestern 14, preferred 2, Rock Island 116, Fort Wayne 176, Cumberl 2, Ohio and Mississippi certificates 1%. Government securities were weak. Coupon five-twenties declined %; new issue, %; seven-thirty notes, third series, 14; one

After the call the bears continued to hammer the market, and at the open board at half-past three a portion of the list was a fraction lower. New York Central closed at 94%, Eric 88%, Reading 113%, Michigan Southern 71%, Northwestern 29%, preferred 63, Hudson River 105, Cleveland and Pittsburg 73 4, Ohio and Mississippi certificates 26 16, Rock Island 107, Quickstiver 48 1/2.

Afterwards, on the street, the market was weak and excited, but towards dusk it recovered a fraction and closed a shade higher than at the board.

The money market worked easier than it has done for a week or more, and the large houses had more currency than they could use. The rate, however, was strictly seven per cent. It is not so much owing to the diminished supply of funds available for use on the Stock Exchange as the strong disposition on the part of most of the brokers themselves to put prices lower that the market continues depressed. Many of these have thrown their own ar Meir customers' stocks overboard, and are desirous of buying them back again as low as possible. They are also short of a considerable amount bosides, and the short interest, already very large, is insing rapidly. The result will be that the market, thus oversold, will recoil, and there will be a general rush to "cover." The bulls, who are now assisting bears, will suddenly turn about and assist the reaction. The advance in the Bank of England rate of discount will tend to the release of funds now employed in the cotton and produce speculations here by lowering prices and stimulating exports. Many of the speculative ders of cotton, provisions and breadstuffs are indebted to Europe, and will be forced to ship in order to meet the demands of their foreign creditors. This, in turn, will force product forward from the West and ree the money market there, causing a return flow of currency towards the East, to which the West is largely indebted. There is nothing, however, in the present condition of things to indicate that the decline in the ices of produce will be sufficient to create a "panicky" tate of teeling either here or at the West. Speculation has carried prices very high, and resulted in large hoardings, once the great demand upon the loanable resources Western banks and the consequent withdrawal of lances from this point; but the speculators concerned can afford to sell at lower prices, and it would infuce a healthier state of trade if the movement of pro

The government is throwing its influence in favor of monetary ease and against any sudden fluctuations of market values, knowing that their sudden dis-urbance, either for a rise or a fall, is attended with more or less disaster. The Sub-Trea-New York is in a strong position and ready to promptly accommodate both the creditors and debtors of the government. It disbursed $668,000 on account of the temporary deposit line to-day, That the fall in the price of securities is not caused wholly by monetary stringency is sufficiently evidenced by the course of the market this afternoon. The demand for discounts is active, and although will be compelled to sell their railway securities; but this argument has a very limited scope. In the first place, many of the Western speculators all portion of their number remaining hold any, and these aggregate an amount so small as to be a mere drop

The gold market opened firm at 146%, under the news from Europe, but towards the close of business it recedes to 146, partly under rumors that the Sub-Treasury was going to receive gold deposits, and issue certificates therefor, although what influence that course can exert upon the premium it is hard to see. Moreover, the Treasury Department has not yet decided to adopt it, and we see no good reason why it ever should. The law of March 3, 1862, ampowering the Secretary of the Treasury

March 3, 1863, empowering the Secretary of the Treasury to receive such deposits, reads thus:—

"Sec. 5. And be it further ensetted, that the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to receive deposits of gold coin and bullion with the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer of the United States, in sums not less than twenty dollars, and to issue certificates therefor, in denominations of not less than twenty dollars each, corresponding with the denominations of the United States notes. The coin and bullion deposited for or representing the certificates of deposit shall be retained in the Treasury for the payment of the same on demand. And certificates representing coin is the Treasury may be issued in payment of interest on the public dolt, which certificates, together with those issued for coin and bullion deposited, shall not at any time exceed twenty per centum beyond the amount of coin and bullion in the Treasury and the certificates for coin or bullion in the Treasury shall be received at par in payment of duties on imports.

Foreign exchange was stronger and in better demand. Bankers' bills at sixty days were quoted at 1993, a %.

Bankers' bills at sixty days were quoted at 109% a %. The further advance in the Bank of England rate of discount to seven per cent, and the absorption of gold and notes which caused it, were alike unexpected in the the English money market; and the latter was mainly attributed, in part, to the disbursements of autumn tourists, but more particularly, we judge, to the active speculation in cotton. The operations in the latter alone at Liverpool during the fortnight prior to the Scotia's sailing are stated to have represented the enormous sum of twelve millions of pounds sterling. The reserve of notes has, inexplicably to some, been brought down to a point much lower than at the corresponding date of last year, when the rate of discount was nine per cent, and the co'n and bullion has been reduced about as low. The last advance in the rate can hardly fail to cause a sharp return flow of money, the more especially as there has been no perceptible drain of gold out of the country. The drafts drawn against balances in England by pardoned rebels, as well as others who provided against contingencies during the war, have checked the export of specie from this side, and in the case of Americans who have gone to Europe, but who are not in England, it has quietly led to the removal of coin before deposited there for safety to other countries. The drain of specie, too, towards Ireland in favor of the banks there, on account of the Fenian excitement, has probably been larger than is generally supposed. But, although cotton and produce generally may decline in consequence of the seven per cent money market, there is no likelihood of panic, the action of the bank being the safety valve of commerce. Petroleum stocks were active but irregular at the first Molassis.—The market was quiet, but prices were very firm.

Provisions.—Receipts, 190 packages beef. The pork market was dull, and prices were decidedly lower at the commencement, but shesquently it railled under a more active inquiry, and prices ruled higher, new mess closing firm at $32, regular. The sales were very large, comprising 12,500 bbis, including 300 bbls. mess, for November delivery, seller's option, at $31. The sales for immediate delivery were 12,200 bbls, at $30,3714 a $32 for mess, and $30,50 a $27 for prime mess. The demand for beef was fairly active, but the efferings at current rates were rather limited, and the business in consequence was restricted, holders generally asking for an advance. The sales were about 400 packages, at $10,50 a $13,50 for plain mess, and $13,50 a $16,50 for extra mess. Beef hams were dull for want of stock; lots to arrive were held at $36. The lard market was very firm, and holders were acking higher prices; the sales were about 700 bbls, at 24c a 29c. Butter was firm at 32c, a 42c. for Western, and 42c a 55c. for State. Cheese was sicady; common to choice factory was held at 14½c, a 18½c, per 18.

Pernoteurs.—Receipts, 230 bbls. The market was decidedly firmer for both crude and refined under a fair demand, in partigle fill contracts. The sales were, 4,000 bbls, at 32c for crude and 62c, for refined prime light straw to white, and 80c, a 81c, for free.

Rece continued quiet but firm, without transactions except in a retail way.

Sucan.—The market was rather more active and prices remained without any material change. The sales were a carge of Pernambioo, comprising 5,000 bags on private terms; 40 hbds. Porto Rico at 15c. and 631 hbds. Cu

ALLEGED WIFE MURDER.

Trial of George Wagner for the Hon cide of His Wife-The . Testimony Closed, &c.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Before Recorder Hoffman.

The trial of George Wagner, charged with murder in the first degree, in causing the death of his wife by striking her with a hatchet, was commenced yesterday. District Attorney Hall conducted the prosecution. Messrs. Stuart and Cohen defended the accused, who appears to be an intelligent and respectably dressed man. Judging from his appearance no one would suppose that a man ossessed of his apparent refinement would be arraigned upon such a serious charge.

A jury was obtained without much difficulty, after which Mr. Hall made an interesting statement of the case. The prisoner was charged with killing his wife, Mary Wagner, on the 22d of July, about four o'clock in the afternoon, at the premises 516 Broome street. She must have died instantly. Usually in cases of this kind the evidence is circumstantial; but in this particular instance the testimony would be positive, for four wit-showing deliberate malice.

The first witness called was Dr. Beach, who made post morten examination of the body of the deceased, which was lying in the front room. He found the body lying on its face and there was a serious wound on the back of the head; the skull was broken and a small axe was buried in the brain. [Witness identified the axe, which on inspection was found to have some of the hair of the unfortunate woman's head adhering to it.] About one-half of the axe was within the skull; in his judgment the injuries upon the brain caused death; the face of the de-ceased was very much disfigured, but the witness judged that she was about forty years of age; he examined the internal organs, and from such an examination he con-cluded that she was a woman of intemperate habits,

John Ryan testified that he was a carpenter, and on premises where it happened; the first he heard was a

John Ryan testified that he was a carpenter, and on the day of the homicide was working in the yard of the premises where it happened; the first he heard was a women halloo (he was about fourteen feet from the house), and then he ran to the deor and saw the prisoner kneeling on her shoulders at the sill of the door, with an axe in his hand; the axe was sunk into her head; witness did not know whether he could g't it out or not; the prisoner ran back to the hall, into the street while the witness ran into the grocery store and told them that the man killed his wife.

Win. Small, examined through an interpreter, said that he was vorking in the prisoner's shop, in the basement, whose occupation is that of a furniture repairer; about half-past three o'clock he saw the prisoner pass in and go up stairs; he had scarcely been up stairs when he (the witness) heard? Show and a Sergenj; he jumped immediately towards the staircase and heard another scream; there were two blows, one after Ne pleer; he was on the staircase and saw the prisoner give her jwo blows and then a third, which felled her to the groun? I he axe remained in the head, and the prisoner ran up stairs; winds? wont into the street and called for people; he returned to whore the body was and found the woman was dad; he never saw the prisoner before that day; he heard the prisoner saw, "I have killed her."

Cross-examined—The prisoner and the deceased were both standing upright when he first saw them; she fell when the fourth blow was given; the prisoner went up stairs, and afterward he saw him go out of the front door.

Wm. Crawford, who is engaged in the lottery business, and whose house is near the prisoner's place, testified that about half-past four o'clock he heard one of the carpenters say, "I cannot work here and see a man killing his wife;" when the witness went to his back door he saw a man hitting something, how a first supposing that he was cutting wood; winess then went further ino the yard and was about fifteen feet from the prisoner.

what he done it for, he (waner) turned ground and said, "it is none of your business;" he did not seem to be very much excited.

Coroner Widey testified that on the morning after the occurrence the prisoner said his wife's name was Mary Wagner.

Edward Lynch said he knew the prisoner and the de-ceased, and that they appeared to live together as man and wife; saw the deceased two days provious to the kill-ing, and recognized the corpse as being the body of Mary Wagner.

40 do a deed which from that moment to the present haunt digm.

Sevon witnesses who had known the prisoner were examined, all of whom testified that he was industrious, and possessed a remarkably quiet disposition.

This closed the testimony on both sides; and in consequence of the indisposition of the senior counsel for the prisoner, the Recorder granted an adjournment till Friday, when the case will be summed up.

A Double Marriage. APPLICATION FOR A DECREE OF DISSOLUTION. SUPREME COURT-SPECIAL TERM. Before Judge Clerke.

monial complication was before the Supreme Court yes-terday morning. The plaintiff, James Leach, is an Englishman by birth, and the defendant, Mary Walker Leach, is a middle aged woman hailing from the Emerald Isle. The case involves one of those unpleasant double marriages that cometimes do happen, even among the best disposed people. The plaintiff represents that in the month of September, 1850, he took unto himself as a wife one Sarah Ann Nicholson. The wedding ceremony occurred at Hannslett, borough of Leeds, Yorkshire occurred at Hannslett, borough of Loads, Yorkshire county, England. After living with her for five years, during which time she bore him three children, Mr. Leach resolved to try his fortune in America, and came to this city, where he set himself up in the business of a fruit stand keeper. It was his intention, on leaving his English home, to send after his wife and children so soon as his circumstances would permit; but learning, in 1859, that Mrs. Leach No. I was defunct, he made up his minu to set up a Mrs. Leach No. 2, and so for the socond time he committed matrimony. This last marriage was solemnized in this city on the 7th day of July, 1852, the bride being Miss Mary Walker, with whom he cohabited until the 7th of March, 1864; when, as he swears, we learned through a gentleman then just arrived from England that Mrs. Leach No. I was still in the land of the living, with no particular intention of speedily "shuffling off this mortal coil." Thus Mr. Leach found himself possessed of two vives, through no fault of his own. What was to be done under the circumstances In his own opinion the first marriage was the only one lawful, either in a judicial or religious point of view, and, appealing to a lawyer, he found his melions on the subject to be correct. Hence Mr. Leach appears in court with his doleful history, and asks that his second marriage be declared null and voil. Mrs. Walker Leach, in her answer to this petition, intimates a total disbekief in the story of the first marriage, and therefore opposes the application for a dissolution or decree that the marriage is non ed. The case was called yesterday, and the parties were in court, attended by their counsel.—Chaunce Shafler appearing for the bushand and J. M. Place for the defendant. The hearing of the case was postponed until the 10th of next month.

Another Theatrical and Operatic Squab-A CALIFORNIA MANAGER AGAINST HIS NEW YORK

AGENT.
SUPREME COURT—CHARRES.
Before Judge Ingraham.

Before Judge Ingrahms.

Thomas Maguire vs. Thomas S. Oline.—Another the atrical and operatic suit turned up in one of our courts yesterday, the plaintiff being Mr. Thomas Maguire, the well known manager of San Francisco, California, and the defendant Mr. Thomas S. Cline, a gentleman belonging to this city, and who has been mixed up with the drama here for some time back. According to the complaint in the case Magaire entered into an arrangement with Mr. Cline in the early part of this year—about Pebruary or March—by the terms of which the latter was constituted the agent of the former for the engaging of operatic and the atrical artists and other like purposes. Mr. Maguire represents that he entrended to Mr. Cline four thousand two hundred and fifty nine dollars to be used agreeably to instructions in the compleyment of performers. Thirty-five hundred dollars at this money was in gold coin, which the defendant sold at a profit of nine hundred and twenty even dollars and mity cents, thus making the total sum five thousand one hundred and eighty six deflars and fifty cents. Of this amount Mr. Maguire claims that Cline expended three hundred and seventy-five deliars still in his hands. It is concerning this balance that the litigation occurs. Mr. Maguire asserts that Mr. Cline has appropriated the amount in a fraudulent manner, while the latter repudiates the accusation, averring that no such balance is due at all. Mrs. Emma Teresa Maguire, wife of the plaintiff, arrived in this city last July, and in an interview with the defendant demanded from him a settlement and payment of the balance due. Mr. Cline's re-ponse to this demand, according to one of the affidavits, was an immediate departure from this city to the land of Paradise—a place situated somewhere in the neighboring State of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Maguire, however, did not give up the matter, but remained here in the hope of finally obtaining a remedy by law. Her patience was rewarded by partial success. In the middle of September Cline reappeared in this city, and Mrs. Maguire applied to the Supreme Court for his arrest. Judge Barnard granted the necessary order. Cline was taken into custody and bailed in the sum of fifteen hundred dollars. The matter came up yesterday on a motion by Mr. John Sedgwick, counsel of the defendant, to reduce the amount of bail. Messrs. Compton and Smith, counsel for the plaintiff, opposed the motion, on the ground that Cline was at, present out on bail, and therefore was subjected to no hardship. The
